New Development in Extension of Las Vegas Road

East Bay M.U.D. Offers to Sell Strip of Land

The proposed extension of Las Vegas Road to Charles Hill Road is one step nearer reality with announcement by Hart Eastman, public relations officer of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, that the company has offered to sell the necessary land to the county for the extension.

Eastman said that this offer was conveyed this week to Supervisor Jack Cummings for county consideration. Approximately 1.64 acres of land is involved in the offer to sell and the approximate appraised value of the land is $2,500, Eastman told the SUN today.

FORMATIVE STAGE

Supervisor Jack Cummings informed the SUN that the project is in the "formative stage" and he has nothing to report at the present time.

However, East Bay MUD's offer was in response to a request from Cummings to determine if the Utility District would sell the property.

HOT POTATO

The extension of Las Vegas Rd. to Charles Hill Road has been a "hot potato" in these parts for the past several years. Several hundred families on the Orinda side living in the Las Vegas area have actively campaigned for the extension.

This would allow them a much shorter route to the highway and better fire protection than they now have, according to Orinda spokesmen.

On the other hand, residents of Charles Hill have opposed the extension on the grounds that the Road is now unsafe for the amount of traffic it carries. The extension would increase traffic on the road manifold, residents of Charles Hill contend, thus causing additional hazard to children as well as the drivers.

NO COMPROMISE

Attempts to persuade the Charles Hill contingent to withdraw its opposition to the project have so far failed. The problem was handed to Supervisor Cummings about a year ago.

Cummings, who has seen the necessity for the extension, approached the Utility District to negotiate for the acquisition of the property. Today's announcement is the first tangible move since then.

Membership Drive Draws to Close

Orinda Mothers Club Membership Drive is drawing to a close after a successful two weeks.

With the third day of the drive memberships had exceeded the number received during the whole two weeks period last year, Mrs. Alfred Johnson, membership chairman, announced. Complete results and names of winning classes will be published next week.

Adults Offered Free Chest X-Rays

Adults will be offered free chest X-rays in the Auditorium of Acalanes High School on Tuesday, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. and Wednesday, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. according to Ethel Frances Murray, R. N., Executive Secretary of the Contra Costa Public Health Association. Teachers and students will be X-rayed during morning hours, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

This is the first time in two years that evening hours have been scheduled in this area.

The X-ray program is sponsored by the Health Departments and the Contra Costa Public Health Association which uses Christmas Seal Sale money. Films and reports will be sent private physicians who refer their patients. All abnormal heart and lung conditions will be reported by mail to persons found needing further medical study.

Mrs. George Vurek, Chairman of the Tuberculosis Committee of the Association, is recruiting volunteers to assist in registering.

NOT EXACTLY A SURREY-WITH-THE-FRIDGE-ON-TOP... but better say Larry Logan and Linda Bridges who are all set to go driving with one of the St. Bernards which will be a popular feature of Lafayette P.T.A.'s Festival on October 8.

Teatro Para Ninos Starts Tomorrow

Teatro Para Ninos will welcome Orinda school children back from vacation tomorrow, with the first of its series of children's Saturday matinees at Orinda Grammar School auditorium. This week's program will include "Icecapades Review" and the first installment of a Dick Tracy serial, Mrs. Jack Moylan, chairman, announced.

As a special observance of opening day, children may come in costume, if they wish, and will line up before the school at 1:30 p.m. Movies will start at 2:00 a'clock. There will be no parade.

Assisting Mrs. Moylan in Teatro Para Ninos are Mesdames Colvin Doughty, Jack Cooper, David Wallace, George Klement and T. P. Bacon. Helpers are needed at the start of the show each Saturday. Anyone interested please call Mrs. Moylan, Orinda 2523 or Mrs. Doughty, Orinda 7251. As was done last year, special arrangements will be made for birthday parties, if information is in Mrs. Moylan's or Mrs. Doughty's hands before the preceding Monday.

Banza Corporation will introduce their new product "Snobergers" which will be given out to each child in the line-up preceding the movie this Saturday.

Black's Market to Start Remodeling

"Bigger and Better" was the theme set at the State Fair and bigger and better is the best description of what's going to happen to Black's Market when extensive remodeling get underway on Monday.

The management of the supermarket has announced that the remodeling work will be done by departments with little inconvenience to their customers. It will be business as usual with workmen working both night and day to complete the four day job.

There will be a complete facelift job throughout the store with a new and enlarged produce department, more check stands, new and improved design grocery fixtures.

Some eighteen additional feet of counter space will be included in the new, streamlined meat department. Four full time meat cutters will be on hand to serve the customers, according to the management.

The T & D Delicatessen will gain an additional 20 feet of space before the workmen complete their job. Many additional items will be added to the stock and the liquor department will be enlarged to handle a more complete line of merchandise.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Board of Trustees of Orinda Union School District will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock at Orinda School, Joseph L. Sheaff, Superintendent of Schools, announced.

Orinda Estates Group Checks On Improvements

Board of trustees of Orinda Estates Owners Association met at the home of Douglas Killingsworth Monday evening for a general discussion and reports of matters pertaining to the area.

Reports were made on the various road improvements made in the district through the cooperation of Supervisor Jack Cummings. These include widening of Manzanita Drive with a hazardous narrow turn near the bridge made safer through widening. The improvement program included road surfacing, cleaning out of ditches and the straightening out of a culvert which were potential drainage problems with the approach of winter.

Papers for incorporation of the Association have been prepared and are to be submitted to the Secretary of State within several days, acting chairman Bob Clough announced.

Trustees are continuing their investigation of possible sewer installation problems which may confront the area in the future.

The serious problem facing the immediate area in finding adequate recreation space for the 30 children living there was discussed. It was pointed out that there is no level area convenient and adequate for a play area. Further investigation of the subject is to be made.

Cummings And Orinda Assoc. Discuss Problems

Supervisor Jack Cummings met on Monday night with the directors of Orinda Association to discuss recent recommendations made by the Civic Affairs Committee.

No definite decisions were made at the meeting, Cummings said, but the agenda included detailed discussions of the problems involved in Orinda's new parking ordinance, the U-turning situation in the Crossroads area, and the need for improved "access" and "exit" routes to the Bay Area.

Discussion of the proposed access route revolved around the proposal to widen and straighten out the Wild Cat Canyon Road. It was felt that the improved route would be valuable "insurance" in the event of a traffic tie-up on the Broadway Tunnel route.

Hunting Film Shown Rotarians

cial sportsmen's film taken and produced by Boyd Wilson, amateur photographer and wild life expert, was one of the features of the Orinda Rotary Club's meeting held yesterday.

A buck-hunting trip in the Lake-Yolo-Solano Counties locale is graphically pictured in the movie which shows members of the party tracking their quarry and the final success in getting their game.

A collection taken up among Rotary members for the benefit of Mt. Diablo Child Therapy Center netted $52, Vic Beauchamp reports.

Announcement was made of a talk on "Atomic Defense" to be presented before the service club next week by Lt. Commander Verne Ramsing, officer stationed at Treasure Island.

Garden Club Maps Future Programs

The Orinda Garden Club met September 15 in the lovely garden of the Edgar Stewart home on Los Altos Road. Mrs. Hilda Everts, president of the Garden Club, conducted the business section which was followed by an open discussion of future programs.

Members brought plants from their gardens to exchange and a picnic lunch was enjoyed around the swimming pool.

Former Resident Died in San Francisco

Orindans are grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Paul Kantner at Stanford Lane Hospital in San Francisco on Sunday, September 18. Mrs. Kantner was a one-time resident of Orinda, on Davis Road. Her son, Paul, attended Orinda Grammar School during their residence here.

Who Will Enforce New Parking Law?

BY POLITICUS

It's a good question... so the law enforcement authorities are asking everybody concerned — and unconcerned.

"Who will enforce Orinda's new Parking Ordinance?" When Captain George Belon of the Highway Patrol was asked the question, he replied... "That's what I'm wondering!"

Skeggs Invited to Personally Survey Overpass Site

In an attempt to bring a long sought "overpass" or "underpass" to the Orinda Crossroads intersection, Col. John Skeggs of the State Division of Highways, San Francisco has been invited to personally survey the intersection in the company of Clarence Betz, secretary of Orinda Association, and Supervisor Jack Cummings.

This announcement was made by Cummings who also added that Col. Skeggs has been invited to lunch with the local men who will point out the need for the safety device.

Skeggs had pointed out several weeks ago that no money is budgeted for the project but his department will study the project with future appropriations in mind.

Cummings recently visited the San Francisco office of the Division of Highways and reports that highway engineers believe construction of an overpass most feasible.

Blast Shakes Cheney Home

A basement gas furnace explosion at the home of A. F. Cheney, Jr., 54 Miraloma Road Tuesday, cracked plaster and shook the house but did no appreciable damage, according to reports.

The unexplainable explosion blew the furnace door across the basement, but there was no fire. Firemen estimated that the damage done would amount to about $200.

This seemed to kick the props right out from under the ordinance which requires enforcement by... the Highway Patrol. But Belon went on to explain that the Patrol does not have enough manpower to enforce the ordinance. Especially the two-hour parking section of the law.

NOT ENOUGH MEN

"Of course when we see a violation we'll enforce the law," Belon declared. "But we haven't enough men to station a man permanently in the area."

And furthermore... "I spoke to the supervisors against this ordinance before it was passed... The street is too narrow for diagonal parking... Maybe the Sheriff's department will help enforce it, I don't know... And," Belon concluded, "We can't enforce it until signs are posted like the code stipulates. But we will do our best!"

That seems to put an end to that... for a while.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

But Supervisor Cummings tossed the problem back to Captain Belon, "Who are we to go against the will of the people?" Cummings said, "I'm not saying whether it will work out or not, but the people want the ordinance and they have a right to try it out... The Highway Patrol can enforce this law the same as they are required to enforce the rest of the laws passed by the people."

Supervisor Cummings concluded, "The signs will be posted soon. County Surveyor Barkley will get the order after Monday's Board meeting to erect the necessary signs."

COMPLETES THE CIRCLE

And Inspector Norman Wilson of the Sheriff's Department got quickly to the point on the question. "Deputies don't meddle around traffic problems. That's the Highway Patrol's problem." And it looks as if it is.

When Political Season Rolled Around They Had Fun Taking Sides -

SEE WHERE THEY WERE TAKING SIDES back in September of 1940 . . . The St. Mary's College boys favored Roosevelt two to one over Willkie according to a poll conducted by The Collegian, campus newspaper.

And then there were some who favored Willkie, but definitely . . . The SUN, for example, ran a big front page story which stated in short words, short sentences that "Wendell Willkie is a typical American," . . . undoubtedly a boost. And his "remarkable intelligence" was proven, the SUN goes on to say, by his performance when "he was quizzed on the radio program of "Information Please" . . .

But the St. Mary's freshmen gave Roosevelt, who probably never appeared on a quiz show, 64 votes, Willkie 21.

FOR ONLY 50 CENTS you and your gal could dance to the music of Marilyn Merle and her Pirateers at Lafayette Town Hall, just nine years ago. Lafayette Firemen were sponsoring the shindig . . . How about a dance in your new building, fellows? Or would that new way of heating with pipes laid in the concrete floor be too hot on the feet . . .

ORINDA WOMENS GUILD was more concerned with Richard Lewellyn's "How Green was My Valley." Mrs. Laurence Cross reviewed the current best seller of '40 at the regular monthly meeting of the Guild at the Orinda Community Church. Mrs. Spiegel and Mrs. William Penn Mott were co-hostesses.

Also along about that time (that time being October 18, 1940, 8 p.m.) the Womens Guild of Orinda Community Church held its anniversary birthday party for members and their husbands, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Doten, 51 Via Hermosa. Only sixty people could attend so you had to hurry up and call Mrs. Lynn Bell, Orinda 7641 for reservations.

POPULAR MARY WICK, waitress in 1940 at Bill's Place, and George Seoni of Walnut Creek were making reservations in Reno without benefit of publicity . . .

They eloped on a Friday in September, '40, and lived in Berkeley until their new home was completed in Walnut Creek. Mary, the news item went on to point out, was "one of those rare types of girls who beam personally and has a happy faculty of making and keeping friends." Seems like they make that a practice in there . . . Got a good example and teacher in Marie herself . . .

Nine years ago a lot of "new" things were taking place . . . Lafayette's NEW Veterans Memorial building was nearing completion and tentative dedication date was October 27, 1940. Building and land cost approximately $17,000 . . . that's THEN not NOW.

The Lafayette Forum had a NEWLY formed Garden Section with Mrs. H. M. Smitten as chairman . . . Marshall Dean was the supervising architect of the NEW post office in Lafayette . . .

And "a large crowd witnessed the dedication of the NEW library, Sunday, September 22, '40 . . . W. B. Ellis was master of ceremonies, Invocation by the Rev. M. A. Kidder, flag presentation by Boy and Girl Scouts, a vocal selection by Stella Houston accompanied by Beatrice Sherwood, a talk by Miss Lee, county librarian, a talk on "The Lafayette Library" by Col. H. M. Smitten, president of the library board, a vocal selection by H. H. Hindman accompanied by Betty Lovejoy, presentation to the community by Col. Smitten, the response by L. J. Coleman of Lafayette American Legion, then everybody joined in and sang "God Bless America" with Mrs. Olive B. Gates as song leader.

Well-known Man Appointed to JC Post

J. Graham Sullivan returns to the Bay Area after an absence of eight years to accept the position of Director of Curriculum of the Contra Costa Junior College District at an annual salary of $11,000, according to Supt. Drummond J. McCunn.

Sullivan joined the staff of the San Francisco City College in 1936 and in 1938 was appointed Assistant to the President and Coordinator of Educational Management.

RECOGNITION. In 1940 he accepted the assignment of Assistant Superintendent of Schools in San Diego, during which time he has attracted state and national recognition particularly in the field of Vocational Education.

In 1944 Sullivan was granted a leave of absence from the San Diego City Schools at the request of the State Department in Washington, D.C. to serve as Chief of Staff of an Educational Mission to Peru.

NEW PROGRAM

His responsibilities were to work directly with the Peruvian government through the Minister of Education in developing a total reorganization plan for education throughout the country. One of the major projects, the education of the Andean Indian, was used as a pattern for the program of fundamental education adopted by UNESCO.

Sullivan, age 40, has his A.B. degree from Stanford and his Master's degree from U.C.L.A. He has been active in statewide committees in the field of curriculum and has been active in civic affairs in the communities which he has served. He is married and has three daughters.

Trustee Stresses Need for Two J.C.'s

The need of two junior college sites in Contra Costa County was pointed out to Concord Chamber of Commerce members at a dinner meeting addressed by O. J. Wholgemuth, Ygnacio Valley member of the County Junior College Board of Trustees, last week.

He showed that geographical demarcations and centers of population made it obvious that both Richmond and the east-central section of the county need junior colleges, adding that Richmond has arranged to use the old library building for college facilities. One-half the county's population is in the central-eastern section, he said.

REVIEWS HISTORY

In the study of junior colleges, started two years ago, the board of trustees found that in 1948-49, $110,000 was paid by Contra Costa to other counties in tuition fees for students.

"A full fledged two-year college course to compare favorably to any accredited institution is needed in Contra Costa," he said. "Training in trades and crafts should be made available for those who cannot afford to go elsewhere for it."

According to statistics, 15 percent of the county high school graduates in 1948 went on to schools of higher learning. In Sacramento County, 60 percent of the high school graduates continued their studies at junior colleges and other accredited institutions.

FROM OTHER COUNTIES

According to Wholgemuth, a survey indicates that a probable 5000 from other counties would attend Contra Costa Junior College. Paying their tuition they would not be a cost to county taxpayers.

In answer to questions concerning who has the final word in locating the campus, Wholgemuth said the Junior College Board of Trustees would make recommendations to the state board which makes all final decisions.

CONSIDER STATISTICS

The number of students, the distance they would be required to travel to reach the college and population centers would be among the determining factors considered by Trustees in making decisions, it was reported.

Asked what central and eastern sections of the county could do to simultaneously locate a junior college with Richmond, the trustee advised that representatives from the interested area attend the Junior College Board of Trustees meetings held in Martinez the first and third Friday of each month at 8 p.m. He concluded with the remark, "Let the people speak up."

Captain Sandford Sez:

I WAS DRIVING ON MANIAC'S BOULEVARD behind a man who was proceeding at a very high speed. Away ahead of him I could see a highway repair man waving a red flag. I naturally slowed down. The speeder ahead of me did not slow down but at the last moment put on everything, and amidst a rich smell of burning rubber succeeded in bringing his car to a standstill within a few feet of the man with a red flag. Nuts!

This is a neat trick you can see almost any day. The attractive wife of the owner of a restaurant on the Boulevard disappears with an air of easy nonchalance into a room marked "MEN." When I questioned her about this, she told me that the private office was also in there. Her husband's explanation was much more fantastic and really utterly impossible.

THIS IS ABOUT DAMES IN SLACKS. Some of them is this and then again, some of them is that. I like them kinda neat fitting round the stern, and, come to think of it, they should be neat and "Ship-shape and Bristol fashion" in the vicinity of the bow, also. I don't care about them so much when the seat of the slacks is loose-fitting and appears to center somewhere behind the knees. That creates a kinda weird effect especially when viewed in action; and I mean at a slow walk. Good-bye now.

I saw a man with a beautiful new yellow pick-up truck on Moraga Boulevard. He was on the other side of the road and called to me, "Hiya, Cap."

I yelled back at him, "Hiya yourself?"

He yelled, "Fine. I'm picking up antiques. Do you want me to toss you in too?"

RELATIVE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. R. Detrick of Thomson Road has been called to Portland by the death of her aunt. Mrs. Detrick plans to return to Lafayette in about two weeks.

Westival Wants Jam and Jelly

In an effort to have a varied selection in the Jam and Jelly Booth at the Westival to be held next week, Mrs. Harry John Dutton, chairman, has asked anyone having a jar of jam or jelly they wish to donate to leave it in a specially labeled "Westival" box at the Super Saver Market. If this is inconvenient, Orinda 2578 may be called so Mrs. Dutton can pick the donation up, or it may be delivered at the Westival booth next Saturday morning.

The chairman suggested that a recipe for the contents be put on the jar, especially if it is something interesting or uncommon.

Group Studies Unification

The special fact-finding committee on the proposed annexation of Contra Costa Area Girl Scout Council met yesterday.

Results will be presented at the October area-wide Council meeting when the question of unification will be decided by vote.

Diablo Valley Area Council members of the committee are: Mrs. H. T. Nies, Chairman, Mrs. Karl Pape, Donald Fibush, and Ernest Schneider.

New High School By 1951 Planned By School Board

A new high school will be built by fall of 1951 for the Walnut Creek area, the Acalanes High School Board disclosed this week.

The board will ask for a bond election in the early fall of next year. Superintendent Neil M. Parsons disclosed today that a time schedule has been set for planning and building and that architects Kump and Falk, who helped construct Acalanes campus, are instructed to work up plans to be approved by the state by June of 1950.

The new school site is approximately one half mile south of Walnut Creek on the Danville highway adjacent to and in back of the Ghiradelli and Marshall estates. The property, totaling 25 acres, has a 300 foot frontage on the highway.

Tentative plans call for the school to start with one grade of ninth year students adding additional classes in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth years as the school expands. Within three years after school is opened it is estimated that enrollment will have increased from 50 in the first year of the ninth grade to over 800.

The new school will not decrease attendance at Acalanes, which has a present enrollment of over 960 and which next year will have 1100 students. At that time the entire plant, including three wings now under construction, will be utilized to maximum efficiency, according to school officials. The 150 ninth year students housed at the new site in 1951 will boost district enrollment to 1250, it is estimated.

Estimates on future population trends regarding children of high school age are based on an initial survey made in 1947. Although the general pattern outlined in the survey has held true, to date survey estimates have always been exceeded.

The board also authorized enclosing certain corridors in the main section of the high school in glass. Enclosures to provide shelter against inclement weather, will resemble present enclosed corridors adjacent to the main office.

Classes Added to Adult Nite School

Beginning Monday evening a new class will be added to the adult program at Acalanes High School. Walter Lipton, a political science student at the University of California, will conduct a seminar on "World Affairs." Class will be held in Room 107 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the high school.

The group will study the background of world governments and their constitutions, the rise of world organizations such as the United Nations, and the present world crisis. The class is open to anyone.

Registration for adult classes that have not been closed will continue. Names are being placed on waiting lists for those classes that have been closed because of excessive attendance.

Additional classes in Mechanical Drawing and Blueprint Reading, Shorthand and Bookkeeping, Photography and other subjects will be opened as soon as more persons sign up for these courses. Sign up by calling Walnut Creek 6707.

Scout Leaders Plan Meeting In Walnut Creek

Girl Scout Leaders Association will hold its first fall meeting at 10:00 o'clock Monday morning, in Walnut Creek, at the Coast Counties Gas Building, 1536 Bonanza Street. Miss Marian Conklin, executive director of Girl Scouts, will be present to teach new songs and hold a planning discussion of troop activities for the year, with many helpful suggestions by experts.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Donald Krotz, Association president, who has expressed the hope that all Girl Scout and Brownie leaders in the Diablo Valley area will attend. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Seafarers Will Meet Tonight

The Seafarers met last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson for an entertaining program of an early California flavor. Most of those attending came in appropriate costumes. With the addition of a few "props" furnished by the host they were able to impersonate historic characters in a guessing game that turned out to be exceedingly funny.

The acting was all spontaneous and unrehearsed.

Mr. Wilson acted as call boy, costumer, make-up artists, director, and M.C. The characters were: Black Bart, by Lance Barden, Emperor Norton, by Chester Brown, Wells and Fargo by Ed Dawson and Clarence Hughes, Dr. Marsh by Dr. Groves; Capt. Sutter, by Charles Pimentel; John Marshall, by Chester Brown; Capt. Fremont, by C. Pimentel; Gen. Vallejo, by Clarence Hughes; Lot-ta Crabtree, by Naomi Nicklas; Pres. Durant of W. C., Fred Morrow; Alice Cameron, Carie Brown; Stanford by Walter Nicklas assisted by d. Dawson; Carie Nation, by Florence Penfield; Bret Harte, by Clarence Hughes; Mark Twain, by Ernest Drews; Senora Francisca Castro, by Mrs. Hughes; Ina Coolbrith, by Dorothy Barden; Rev. Benton, by Fred Morrow, and Lola Montez, by Mae Morrow.

Following this Pony Express Stagecoach and the Country Store games were played. All agreed they had had lots of fun at this meeting.

National Staff Member Visits Scout Council

Miss Margaret Murray, National Staff Member in the Division of Personnel, visited the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council last week for the purpose of making a survey on the methods of procuring adequate leadership for troops and on the various practices and policies of the Troop Organization Committee.

The Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council was one of eight councils selected in the western part of the United States for such a survey. Eight more councils have been selected in the eastern part of the United States.

The Troop Organization Committee found that while they were contributing to the survey which will help Councils throughout the nation in procuring leaders, they were also being greatly helped themselves, by their own discussions and ideas which developed from the survey questionnaires.

Mrs. Robert Galbraith, Troop Organization Committee Chairman, stated that she was very happy to have her committee get in "on the ground floor" in the work of developing suggestions and procedures for the nation in this matter.

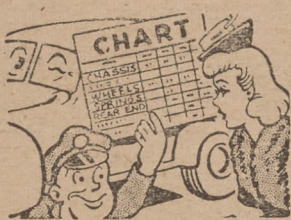

Communities participating from this Council included Orinda, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Alameda.

Dons Favored Over Tricky Tracy Team

It could be a rough 60 minutes for the Donmen when they take on the tricky Tracy eleven at 8 p.m. tonight at Acalanes field. However, the strength of recent wins over Albany and El Cerrito and a tag of "championship material," the Dons go into tonight's game as favorites over a less known opponent.

Tracy showed plenty of deception and follow-through to win over Alhambra last week at Tracy. This was Tracy's only game and the win came as a surprise even for some of the home town rooters. A couple of boys to watch are Tracy's Perry and halfback Stockton. Perry's line backing was reportedly terrific against the hard charging Alhambra.

Probable starters for Acalanes at game time are: Dick Laney, LE; Orlando Chiavini, LT; George Cockerton, LG; Lloyd Torchio, C; Jay Forns, RG; Lawrence Lucas, RT; Granny Siler, RE; Bob Ferro, HB; Jack York, HB; Pete Larmer, FB; Jack Kinf, QB.

Not to be outdone by their big brothers, the Don Junior Varsity tucked away their second win of the season squelching the Mt. Diablo J.V.'s last Thursday 15 to 0. In their grid opener, the Juniors trounced over Antioch 32 to 24.

Dons Grab Second Win as County Teams Show Pre League Power

The Contra Costa County League appears to be headed for one of its best seasons.

Acalanes cashed in on El Cerrito's mistakes and won 13-0 while Mt. Diablo put up a tough battle before dropping one 20-12 to Oakland High who ended as co-champs last year of the Oakland Athletic League.

DOWN'S FREMONT

Antioch came through in grand slam style as they banged out an early lead over Fremont High of Oakland and went on to win 25-6.

Alhambra High fought an uphill battle against Tracy only to lose out 19-12 in the final minutes of the game after coming from behind a 12-0 score against them to tie it all up at 12 all with four minutes to go.

CROCKETT UPSET

John Swett of Crockett took a spill as a surprisingly strong Liberty High of Brentwood ran and passed at will for a 34-6 win. Pittsburg dropped a close one to Fresno High 7-0.

Fans will definitely see a variance of formations this season. Crockett uses the short punt, Antioch the double and single wing, Alhambra double wing, Pittsburg the Waldorf T, Diablo the Shaughnessy T and a spread, while Acalanes stays with the split T.

SCOUTS OUT

The last weekend found coaches scouting one another to catch tip-offs on players, plays and formations. In turn each coach was saving some of his tricks and pet plays for League play which opens next week.

The Dons tackle a tough Diablo, Alhambra meets Antioch and Pittsburg crosses paths with John Swett.

TEA IN HAPPY VALLEY

Sponsors of the Walnut Festival Art Exhibit were honored at a tea recently at the home of Mrs. Raymond P. Tolles in Happy Valley.

FROM THE SIDELINES

—By Coach Erwin Mattson—

THE ACALANES DONS managed to hang up their second win last Friday night at the expense of a fighting El Cerrito eleven that threatened until the final gun.

Bay Area papers pointed out that it was El Cerrito's initial outing whereas the Dons had a game already under their belt. Acalanes slugged Albany 26 to 0 two Fridays ago.

.....WHILE IT IS TRUE that the Dons held an advantage with a game under their belts, the Gauchos of El Cerrito held an advantage in that they held spring practice whereas Contra Costa County has a league rule against any drill or anything pertaining to football as such.

Big advantage of spring practice is that it enables the coach to select and place personnel. Organization is greatly simplified as a result and a team progresses much more rapidly in the fall.

I have always objected to spring practice as such where formal play is practiced with full equipment. I can see an advantage in selecting squad members. It would definitely be a help to have a week at the close of school where all candidates would report in gym clothes. Running drills, passing and kicking could be observed along with a general judgment of skill and strength.

AS THINGS NOW STAND a boy buys a pair of shoes and pays insurance which means quite an investment in itself.

FOOTBALL is not a game for every boy. Some just don't like contact and the game just means hard work.

Coach Lynn Waldorf recently stated that if you don't have fun playing and drilling you had better forget the game. For the boy who does like it however there is no substitute and it fills a definite need in his physical and mental makeup.

ALL THE GAMES have been well scouted by opposition coaches and players.

Nearly every player has a tipoff and if one can observe a team in action often enough, he can discover the weakness and the strength of a player and a team.

Good scouting reports go a long way toward preparing for the following week's game. The trouble lies in that a coach often changes hits them and work best with success. Others loaf on success and work best when the breaks are against them.

The All American player works at top pace all the time. Unfortunately all too few work at top performance over a very long period of time.

One of the biggest jobs of coaching is to get top performance from players. Physical condition is important and is closely connected with the mental condition in many respects. The physical can be attained through work and drill while the mental is an entirely different and much more difficult thing to develop and control.

personnel and uses drill and practice so that what may be a weakness one week may be a strength the next.

PLAYERS VARY greatly in skill and type of play from game to game as a general rule. Some players loaf when failure

Plenty of Game To Hunt in State

California's 500,000 licensed hunters may be luckier than nimrods in any other State, it is indicated in a report released by the Division of Fish and Game.

Last fall, the conservation agency conducted a poll of representative California hunters through the Opinion Research Center of Denver. The objective was to determine relative hunting pressure, needs and wishes of sportsmen, and biological facts leading to improved game management practices.

Preliminary results of the poll have just been released by the Bureau of Game Conservation and show:

An annual harvest of approximately 25,000,000 pounds of game in California; two-thirds of State license holders hunt deer; slightly less than half the hunters seek pheasants and ducks, while one third hunt for quail and doves.

Students must have the BEST LIGHTING in your home!

Guard against eyestrain in your home with better lighting. Steady eye use for studying and reading can be the principal cause of hot, inflamed eyes—the warning symptom of eyestrain. For the study desks and reading zones in your home make sure that the lighting is bright enough for easy seeing and is free from glare and immediate shadow. Do as thousands of families are doing now—conduct a fall lighting check-up in your home. Family Portrait

A Family Portrait we are especially proud of . . . The R. E. Harter and the members of this remarkable family, John James Harter, David Sharman and James Sharman.

This week we introduce you to the Harter family of Lafayette — Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harter and their "children" John James, James Sharman and David Sharman.

James and David were 4 and 6 years old when the Sharmans, Mrs. Harter's parents, died and they joined John James then three. So the Harter family grew up with three boys all approximately the same age.

JUST FOR THE SUMMER

The Harter family came to California seven years ago "just for the summer"

as Mrs. Harter wanted to take graduate teaching courses at Cal. Since it was summer the whole family came with her. But, as you have guessed, after a summer in California they just did not want to leave. And they decided that this area was the place they would like to call home so when a vacancy occurred in the Lafayette Post Office, Mr. Harter quickly applied. He has been in the Postal Service for 29 years. Mrs. Harter resumed her teaching career this year and is employed in the local schools.

John James is at present teaching assistant at U.S.C. and working towards his Ph.D. in the History Department. Before enlisting in the Air Corps for war service he attended the University of California at Berkeley.

JAMES SHARMAN
James Sharman attended Stanford and received his Commission at Harvard. He is now with Standard Oil and just recently returned to Manila with his new bride, the former Susan Ley of Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sharman and family are Walnut Creek residents and he is Circulation Department District Manager for the Oakland Tribune. David graduated from U.C. He also was in the Air Corps and was a German war prisoner for 20 long months.

MUSICAL FAMILY

The whole family is very musical. Mr. Harter played a bassoon in his College Symphony orchestra, Mrs. Harter plays the piano and taught music, John James, following his parents' footsteps, plays saxophone and clarinet and still follows music as a hobby. James also plays the saxophone and David did play the violin but has given it up.

Dahlia culture is Mr. Harter's great hobby. When they purchased their home they first made sure that the soil was suitable for Dahlia growing. In the recent San Leandro show Mr. Harter's beautiful flowers won six first prizes and five seconds. The whole family joins him in their pride in the wonderful garden that he has developed.

CONSTANCE HANSEN

No matter at what time of year one visits the native plant nursery of L. L. Edmunds in Danville there is always something interesting to see in the way of fruiting or flowering shrubs. And since September is not usually noted for garden color, except from annuals, I thought I'd mention some of the plants which caught my eye on Mr. Edmunds' hillside last week.

The "shrub of the month," I think, is the one known as Summer Holly, Comarostaphylis, a relative of the madrone. The foliage is clean and glossy, and bark dark red with a shredded appearance, but the main attraction about it right now are the spikes of small translucent orange-red berries borne at the end of almost every shoot.

SUMMER HOLLY is suitable to use in hedges, as specimen plants, or in a shrubby planting such as I described last week. It is a very adaptable sort of shrub, thriving in sun or part shade, and will stand quite a bit of pruning, since it will sprout out from large branches. Though it is not such a fast grower as the wild lilacs, it gives a more permanent effect, and is worth waiting for.

ANOTHER NATIVE EVER-GREEN shrub which is a good garden subject is the Silk Tassel Bush, or Garrya. This plant is like the willow, in that it bears the staminate and pistillate flowers on separate plants, with the commonest one grown for ornament being the staminate form, which in spring produces quantities of its long green "silk tassels."

However, for fall interest, the pistillate form of Garrya elliptica is very unusual with its fruits like miniature bunches of velvety purple grapes contrasting with the gray-green foliage. According to Lester Rowntree in "Flowering Shrubs of California," the Tassel bush is easily grown into a small tree, and is interesting trained into a standard form so that in season the tassels hang down in a fringe all around. It is usually seen used in a mixed shrubby planting.

SOMETHING QUITE DIFFERENT in the way of a summer-flowering shrub is the Apache Plume (Fallugia), a smaller deciduous shrub, which flowers and fruits all summer and fall, until cold weather causes the buds to fold up and the leaves to fall. It belongs to the rose family, with white flowers like larger, more fragile strawberry blossoms, but it is from the feathery seed heads that it gets its name of Apache Plume.

Each seed has a long tail, like a very fine feather, at first green, but turning to pink as the seeds ripen, so that every flower is replaced with a delicate pink pom-pom, and towards the end of the summer the bush is a fluffy mass.

A Place to Stay Then to School

Four local girls who have been apartment hunting this summer in San Jose, have been successful and are now ready to take up their college career at San Jose State College when the school begins its 92nd year on Monday.

Barbara Weber, Frances Stanley and Mary Carter of Lafayette, and Margaret Very of Walnut Creek are planning to share an apartment while they pursue their studies on the San Jose campus.

For the first time in the history of the college, master of arts degrees will be conferred this year. About fifty graduate students have filed applications as candidates for M.A. degrees. Graduate students will account for nearly 500 of the anticipated 7800 enrollment, 80 more than last year, most of them being candidates for general secondary teaching credentials. About 3000 of the total enrollment will be veterans.

effect, as the leaves are on the small side. The flowers are small and white, somewhat like those of the Apache Plume described above, as it also is in the rose family, but the fruits are like tiny purple plum, and very ornamental when borne in quantity. The shrub is useful not only in mixed shrubbery, but also for foundation planting.

Amazing Bird Circus to be Feature Of Super-Duper, Giant Westival

Final arrangements have been made to bring to Lafayette the Bird Circus, one of the biggest attractions the P.T.A. Westival will offer on October 8th (1 to 9 Lafayette school grounds and Town Hall).

Much in the manner of the Bill and Co. moving picture, these beautiful real life tropical birds will perform as Motorcycle riders, on the Merry Go Round, as Ladder Climbers, Pole Climbers, Barrel Rollers, Aeroplane Pilots, Ferris Wheel Riders, Tight Rope Walkers, and in a specialty act known as Jack & Snow White, the Wonder birds.

3 SHOWS

Plans are for three performances to be given on the afternoon of October 8th in the Town Hall auditorium at 1, 2:30 and 4 p.m. and the price of admission is 15c for children and 25c for adults.

Tickets will be sold specifically for each performance, and will go on sale at the Lafayette School on Monday. At Vallejo they go on sale Tuesday. Adults are invited to purchase them at either of the two schools on the dates specified, or through the children.

Enthusiasm that was created by the performance of these 20 little "Big Top" actors at the Walnut Creek Carnival last year influenced Mrs. Geo. Deubner to go after this show for the Westival. Mrs. R. P. Tolles is assisting Mrs. Deubner in arrangements.

THIS IS A WHITE ELEPHANT

What is a White Elephant? We learned to our surprise that there are a goodly number of people who are a little unsure of just what a white elephant presumes to be. However, they don't think it is a G.O.P. elephant painted white. Here are a couple of good descriptions that Mrs. John Fry, chairman of the Dutch Auction & White Elephant Table picked up along Victoria Avenue the other morning:

"It's something you are sick and tired of dusting and never use." — and "It's something you climb high up in the cupboard and look for under the dirt!"

THAT'S IT!

Well, that just about hits the nail on the head, and Mrs. Fry hopes that these definitions will inspire many people to produce odd lamp bases, shades, vases, odd pieces of glassware, crystal, bowls, clocks, heavy irons (electric or otherwise) dolls, toys, perfume bottles, jewelry, etc.

Her goal is at least 300 items so that there will be a wide selection — not only for the children's table, but for the adult display along the inner corridors, and for the Dutch Auction, which will take place in the Central Booth in the Center Court from 3:00 to 3:30.

DUTCH AUCTION

And while we're on the subject of Dutch Auction, perhaps you'd like a little refresher on the procedure: Auctioneer holds up item marked 40c (only he sees the price) and says, "Do I hear an opening price of 10c?" You say, "10c" and put same in basket. He says, "Who will raise it to 20c?" Mr. Doe says, "20c" and puts in 10c (which is the difference between 10c and 20c) When you, or anyone, finally say, "40c" you get it for the difference between 40c and the previous bid price. Fun — isn't it?

Just to set you drooling, the following list is just a part of the loot that Mrs. Fry has rounded up to date: A gorgeous 24 carat gold filled picture frame ($10 value marked down to $4), a large silver etched picture frame, 4 cranberry sherberts (almost goblets — suggest beautiful mantel decoration, retail value $6.50 each) — will go in pairs at $3 a pair. (Cranberry effect is achieved by sunblasting with gold). To interest the children there is a beautiful 14" doll, dressed in lush pink taffeta — real brunette hair and absolutely new; a white fur cat — clean — and also new; and a 22" Indian Squaw with papoose fully dressed in skins, blankets, beads.

... AND USEFUL TOO

There will be much fun and satisfaction in getting something you can use for a trifling price at this attraction.

Assisting Mrs. Fry will be John Schuer, Beth Maas, Janet Hansen, Judy Fry and Ellen Gardner — 6th to 8th grade girls, who will carry baskets and be stationed throughout the crowd.

CERAMICS WINDFALL

A windfall received for Mrs. Fry's booth the other day came from Frank Smith of the Potters Wheel, who is generously donating an assortment of Glazed Ceramics and some Bisque Ware (molded and baked, but not glazed) which should be of great interest to the many ceramics enthusiasts in this area.

White elephants can be left in Mrs. Barbara Davis 2nd grade morning session at Vallejo where a box has been provided, or in any room in the Lafayette school where boxes are also provided.

BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS!

Mrs. Will Hall, Book Nook Chairman, says that her life is just one series of books after another these days. They are overflowing her garage and she still wants more because she wants to make up in volume what she is losing in price. Can you imagine getting The Fountainhead, Wake of the Red Witch or Green Dolphin Street for 25c? She has these and practically every other last year's best seller of the Literary Guild and Book of the Month Club.

OUT OF FOG INTO SUNSHINE ... the fog comes from you-know-where and the sunshine is provided by Lafayette's Nancy Carlson, Bonnie Jean Jeffries and Janet Davies. The Walnut Festival judges so appreciated the imported sunshine that they gave the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce float first prize in the non-commercial class. (Photo by Kibler)

U.W.F. To Hear Timely Review

Guests and members of the Alameda Chapter of UWF meeting at the El Nido Sunday morning at nine o'clock on October 2, will enjoy a Pancake Breakfast followed by a review of the book "The Pilgrimage of Western Man (His Search For One World From 1500 To Armistice II)" by Stringfellow Barr, to be given by Mrs. Donn Court, President of the Lafayette Forum. Those who wish to be present for the book review only are urged to be there about 9:30.

Nationally known as the president of St. John's College where he inaugurated a new curriculum using 100 best books as the basis for a college education, Stringfellow Barr received his B.A. and M.A. degrees at the University of Virginia, and also attended Oxford and the Sorbonne Universities as a Rhodes Scholar. He introduced the radio program "Invitation To Learning," and is now the President of Foundation For World Government.

The timeliness of this book report by Mrs. Court is indicated by the statement by Stanley A. Weigel, chairman of the United World Federalists of Northern California, released following announcement of the Russian Atomic Bomb.

"Time is running out and the choice is clear."

"We must either continue an atomic armaments race so costly as to threaten our economy, and so dangerous as to threaten our survival, or we must insist upon international control of atomic weapons. Control demands law and government — world government and ENFORCEABLE world law."

CONTRACTORS PICNIC

Over 100 contractors, their families and friends, attended the Annual Barbecue of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, at Marsh Creek Springs Park recently.

Present from the Lafayette area were Chas. Krattenmaker and Terry McLeod.

Seminar on World Affairs to Be Given for Adults

Beginning Monday evening from 7:30 until 9:00 p.m. a discussion class on "Trends in World Affairs" will be conducted by Walter M. Lipton, member of the Counter Intelligence Corps during the last war and at present attending the University of California where he is majoring in Political Science.

Lipton came to the United States from Germany in 1937. He joined the U. S. Armed Forces in 1941, serving with the Coast Artillery in Alaska. He was selected to attend the Counter Intelligence School in Maryland, and after completing his course served with the C.I.D. in occupied Germany for 2 years. On his return to the United States Lipton attended the American University in Washington, D.C. In 1947 he transferred to U. C.

The program planned by Lipton will include direct contact with the various embassies in order to obtain material from them for discussion. Guided by these reports, trends in world affairs will be sought and conclusions drawn after careful study.

The class will be held in Room 107, and registration may be made Monday through Thursday from 7-10 p.m. in the Main Office at the High School. Registration fee is $1.

Crow Canyon Road Now Open

Crow Canyon Road was officially opened last week after a $250,000 reconstruction and rebuilding program that has been in progress for over a year.

According to County Surveyor Joseph Barkley, the highway which links southern Contra Costa County with the Hayward area has been shortened four-fifths of a mile as a result of the extensive realignment job just completed. Although forced to shut down during the winter season, more than 240,000 cubic yards of excavating was done by the contracting firm, Biosotti Construction Company of Stockton. The road was rebuilt and repaved over a 1 4/5 mile length under the contract.

The new 22 foot wide road with its 7-foot shoulders was extended 1000 feet beyond the Contra Costa County line under cooperative arrangements with the Alameda County board of supervisors, Barkley said.

County Polio Conditions Told

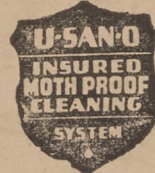

In Contra Costa County the actual number of cases of Polio for the first 8 months of 1948 and 1949 show little difference from last year, with 16 cases having been reported up to August 31, 1948, and 18 cases in a similar period this year.

In the first three weeks of September last year there were 12 cases reported while so far this month only 3 have come to our attention.

However, physicians and parents are cautioned about becoming careless. Between September 1st and December 31st, 1948, there were 45 cases of Infantile Paralysis in this county.

Centennial Service Thrills Orindan

Mrs. G. Chester Brown took in the fair spending three days and an evening there while visiting her daughter, Marjorie Korn, and family who are residents of Sacramento.

The many exhibits showing the wealth of California's farms, forests and mines, as well as the achievements in machinery manufacture thrilled Mrs. Brown, who is a native daughter. She enjoyed also the folk dancing festival in which her daughter joined hundreds of others in dances on the green.

CENTENNIAL SERVICES

But probably her greatest thrill was attending the two Sunday services which ushered in the Pioneer Congregational Church's week of its centennial celebration.

This church had its beginnings in 1849 when Rev. Joseph Benton preached to an audience from the back of a wagon drawn up under some willow trees on I Street. Rev. Benton was one of the founders also of the College of California.

HOMEcoming SERVICE

The morning service Mrs. Brown attended was a homecoming service for all former members. The evening service program was a civic affair at which Sacramento's mayor, Mrs. Coolidge, and leaders of various city organizations congratulated the church on its 100th birthday. Joseph R. Knowland, head of the commission for all of California's centennial celebrations spoke. In the middle of the week was to be a homecoming event honoring former pastors.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Morrow attended the second dinner on last Friday, an anniversary dinner attended by 350 people.

A feature of the dinner was a birthday cake with 100 candles on it brought in by Marjorie Korn, in charge of the dinner, and assisted by fellow members of the Tri S society. At this meeting, Dr. Ronald Bridges was the principal speaker.

Feiler's Office Was Ransacked

The three rear doors of the offices of Dr. C. L. Feiler on Moraga Road were jimmied open and attempts had been made to pry open drawers and cabinets sometime between 5:30 last Thursday evening and 9:00 o'clock Friday morning.

Indications were that the burglars were looking for money as nothing was taken. Possibility of a narcotics thief was ruled out when a bottle of drugs spilled from a bag in a locked closet was left lying on the floor.

Investigation of the case is being made by the Sheriff's office.

FROM EVERY COUNTY in California, Mexico to the Oregon line, mail containing dimes and dollars flood in to San Francisco Post Office and then to San Francisco Bank, where it is counted and tabulated before going to the Polio Epidemic Emergency Fund of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The separate emergency drive was launched to replenish the almost depleted Epidemic Fund maintained by the Foundation and supported by the annual March of Dimes. The fund, now near exhaustion from the staggering number of 20,519 new polio cases must be restored so no person afflicted with infantile paralysis shall go without care and treatment regardless of age, race, creed or color. Mail your donations to "Polio" c/o your local Postmaster. Left to right: Parker S. Maddux, President, San Francisco Bank is receiving a sack of mail from Acting Postmaster John F. Fixa, while Dan Marovich, State Representative, National Foundation looks with approval.

I'm Frank...

and it's a good thing for you patient readers that I am, too. That's because I'm about to relate a fish story.

You see, last week I played hookey from the Orinda Hardware and went fishing. I didn't scurry off to the hills, willy-nilly, like the average Isaac Walton but went in fine style to the lodge of our good friend from Hidden Valley, Bob Godale.

Bob, you know, owns and operates Gray Eagle, a perfectly beautiful spot up the Feather River Canyon above Oroville. But wait, I'm getting ahead of my story.

FIRST, I VISITED the sporting goods section of the Orinda Hardware (2/3 of the way back on the right) and loaded up on the finest equipment in the county. Incidentally, I didn't take it all so don't be hesitant about asking for that special lure if you don't see it.

JUST CAN'T TELL YOU how fortunate I was to be in the company of Eddie and Earl Cappel, of Orinda. Have you ever been high in the mountains where the air is like crystal and the deer and the antelope roam? Then you know how wonderful it is to have a nice sizzling plate of panfish to greet you when you get up in the early hours. That happened to me on two mornings.

Yes sir! Happened right to little old Frank Olsen, the Brooklyn immigrant. Boy, that Earl Cappel can sure catch fish. He buys his tackle here at the store, too.

In the event any of you nosier readers are wondering about my luck, I'll inform you that I don't consider it luck just because the worm I was using wrapped itself around a rather small fish's neck and strangled it to death.

Was going to bring it back and have Nordquist mount it for all to see but that doggone Eddie picked it up by mistake and used it for bait. Oh well! I caught a fish anyway.

MAXINE LANEY WAS IN the other day and her eyes were shining brighter than the "Revere" ware she had come to tell us about. She talked of her kitchen and how attractive the copper bottom Revere ware made it look and then... she spied our new shipment of this wonderful stuff. Her eyes really lit up then.

We showed her the new 6 and 8 cup "perkerlaters," the egg poachers, and the new small size double boiler in addition to all the other Revere items we have featured for so long. Believe me, if there ever was a pot to be proud of it's made by Revere... you can bet your bottom dollar on that.

We keep a big supply on hand all the time for our friends who now own a set and are always coming back for more. And what terrific Xmas gifts. Golly, did I say Xmas? Come in and look around. Get your ideas early!

GOT OFF THE TRACK there for a minute, didn't I? We were talking about Revere. If you have some that has lost its lustre and isn't as bright and shiny as it should be, come in for some Samae cleaner. Makes 'em look like new again.

If I'm not in, just ask Bob and he'll take you right to the cleaners.

Burns me up that I couldn't tell you about the great big fish I caught but it just isn't possible. You see...

By JANET MATSON
Walnut Creek 2040

Mrs. M. E. Pordon has just returned home after spending almost three months at Guernwood Park Resort of which her brother, Angelo Boles, is the owner. Rose, as she is known to her friends here and at the River, and Mr. Pordon built their home here 25 years ago when Pleasant Hill Rd. was just a gravel road and they could drive home from Oakland at night without passing a car.

A little different from today. At that time from their house, which overlooks the whole of the Pleasant Hill area, they could see perhaps three or four homes. Last Sunday the Pordons and some of their friends went up on Mt. Diablo for a picnic. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Menegus of Concord, Mrs. Menegus' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Uberto from Clifton, New Jersey, Mrs. A. M. Conley of Lafayette, Mr. John Justini of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Turrin of Concord.

JUST RECENTLY MRS. PORDON'S SISTER, Mrs. E. J. Turre and family moved from Berkeley to their new home on South Peardale in Upper Happy Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Turre's son, James, who is a pre-med student at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, arrived home for a while this summer to see his family in their new home before returning to his studies.

A RECENT MOST INTERESTING GUEST of Mrs. A. M. Conley was Agostuido Rodrigues from Portugal. Tino, as he is known, is a well-known Ceramic Designer. He has directed important factories in Europe and has now purchased his own plant in Tujunga, California, where he is developing a diversified line of high quality white translucent china under the name of Tino China Ware, Inc. Tino was born in Madeira Islands, Portugal, which are so famous for their skilled Arts and Crafts and during his long years of experience has created many interesting models for fine translucent porcelain and other mediums. We are all glad Tino has decided to make the U. S. his home.

MRS. H. L. COLE and her small son, Kendall, had a grand reunion with her three sisters this month. With one sister, Mrs. C. W. Kelly of Stockton, Mrs. Cole drove down south to visit the other sisters, Mrs. R. W. Jollymour in Claremont and Mrs. H. A. Johnson in San Marino.

While there she had luncheon at the attractive Padua Hills Restaurant where the very talented waiters and waitresses are also the entertainers. All during luncheon there is singing and dancing, and then these same girls and boys put on a Matinee at the Padua Hills Theatre which is also part of the establishment. Mrs. Cole said the food and the entertainment were both excellent.

THE CHILDREN'S PARADE in Walnut Creek attracted quite a few of the local small fry around here Saturday. Peter and Mark Kimball, Anne Matson, Tim and Susie Burns, and Pat and Bill Beckwith were all dressed up as cowboys, Indians, or pioneers.

Local Realtor On Committee

William F. Anderson, prominent member of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, has been appointed to serve on the important Nominating Committee, at the annual convention of California Real Estate Association to be held beginning Monday in Long Beach.

Mr. Anderson is a Vice President of the state association and has been one of the leaders in the local board. This will be the fourth convention which he has attended in the 45 year history of the state association. Lawrence Wallace, president of the local board said.

Famous Dancer To Teach Here

Raoul Pause, nationally famous dancer, director and choreographer intends to bring his dance studio to Lafayette.

The many attempts of local retired dance masters to induce Pause to open classes this side of the bay, may have helped to bring him to our community.

Ballet master of Pacific Opera Guild, former Premeir Danseur of Pavely-Oukrainsky Ballet, Cincinnati Opera Company, Soloist of Chicago Opera Company and Manhattan Opera Company are some of the titles Pause has held during his wide experience.

Pause's "Studio of the Dance" gives recitals, concerts, television and pageants. A recent pageant was the Centennial "Song of a City" presented September 9th, 10th, and 11th before 18,000 people at Oakland's Woodminster Amphitheater wherein sixty-five Raoul Pause dancers were featured. The latest television work was the show presented last Friday over KGOTV by one of the Raoul Pause Oakland studios.

Joe Campana has offered to enroll students at the Campana Music Company at all times. Pause will be with Campana Saturday morning to personally help with registration. Classes will start the following Saturday.

A Statement To Safeway Employees and Customers

Here are the Facts On Safeway's Dispute with Retail Clerk's Union 1179 in Contra Costa County

Safeway's contract with Retail Clerks Union, Local 1179, in Contra Costa County expired September 18, 1949.

Before that date, Safeway offered to renew the contract for all NON SUPERVISORY employees.

We did not offer to renew the contract covering supervisory personnel (Store Managers).

Under Federal Law, SUPERVISORY employees are EXCLUDED as members of a bargaining unit covering other employees.

Our Store Managers have notified Safeway that they do not want Safeway to negotiate with the Union for their services.

All employees who continue to work will be protected in their jobs when a settlement is finally reached. We WILL NOT sign a contract unless working employees are allowed to continue in their jobs.

Orindans Take Honors at Diablo Club Art Ball

The Art Ball at the Diablo Country Club last weekend was attended by more than 600.

Mrs. Marshall Shapiro (Cassandra Horton) of Orinda walked away with first prize for the most humorous costume, that of an eerie character from a humorous weekly magazine.

Most original were the costumes worn by the Charles James Gibbs' of Orinda, creations they themselves dubbed "1999" and made at home of cut-up newspapers and empty orange juice cans, against a background of futuristic greens and blues.

Marie Wilson and Thomas Potts were judged winners in the abstract costume category, their semi-Grecian garments overshadowed by coiled wire headaddresses, complete with ping pong balls and an umbrella.

State Raised Birds Liberated

California pheasant hunters may have more State-raised game birds to shoot at during the 1949 season than ever before, reveals the Division of Fish and Game.

By the end of August, game farm crews, assisted by local sportsmen's groups in some areas, had liberated 38,810 upland game birds throughout the State.

Winter Sports Beginning To Be Heard From

It's a little warm these days to think about ice hockey — but this may help you cool off.

Training camp for the local puck chasers opened today in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada. Some forty youthful aspirants are seeking a berth on the 1949-50 squad of the popular Ice Oaks.

Yellow Jacket Control Explained

Yellow jackets are the cause of many complaints being received by the local Cowell office of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. Some Contra Costa residents have been stung and many others have been threatened.

Milton R. Bell, assistant farm advisor with the office, says these insects have the habit of invading outdoor picnics and barbecues where they are attracted to food such as meat and fruit. It is often hazardous for picnickers to try to hold-their-own during such attacks, he says.

Here are some of his suggestions for controlling yellow jackets:

Often their nest can be found in a hole in the ground or side of a bank. Those within the nest may be killed by fumigating with calcium cyanide. Simply put several heaping tablespoonfuls of the dry, granular substance into the nest and then plug up the hole to retain the fumes.

This material is also supplied in a "bomb" with a fuse which may be lighted according to directions provided and placed inside the hole which should then be plugged up.

Another method is to mix at least one tablespoonful of 50% DDT wettable powder in one gallon of water. This should be poured into the nest and around the outside of the entrance. With this method the hole should be left open; the insects die after contacting the DDT while going in and out of the nest.

Where the nest cannot be located Bell suggests poisoned meat baits. Hamburger or other ground meat may be mixed with a liberal amount of an arsenical poison such as lead arsenate, Paris green or sodium arsenite. These should be hung out of reach of children or pets. One suggestion is to place the bait in wire mesh or screen containers (through which the yellow jackets can feed) and suspend from high places such as the limbs of trees. For details call Agricultural Extension Service, Cowell. Telephone, Concord 8517.

Savings, Loan Associations Announce Merger

Announcement is made this week of the merger of the First Savings and Loan Association in Oakland and the Community Savings and Loan Association of Berkeley and Walnut Creek, making it the largest savings and loan association in the San Francisco bay area.

While both institutions will continue operations in the same offices occupied prior to the merger and with the same personnel, the combined institutions will operate under the name of First Savings and Loan Association.

William A. Davis, resident of Orinda, founder and president of First Savings in Oakland, will head the merged operations. A leader in the savings and loan field in the United States, Davis is vice-chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco. Also active in civic affairs, he is a director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and the Alameda County Taxpayers Association.

ONE FOR FIVE

Roy Bunker, veteran Lafayette post office employee, took time out from his duties to join a party of five deer hunters in the King River country. They packed-in to the rugged country and came out with one buck for the group. It was the usual story of plenty of does, but few bucks, Bunker said.

Our Horseman's Paradise

Hey! Want A Horse to Ride For Free? Ada Morgan Says, 'Just Ask Me!'

BY ADA M. MORGAN
QUITE NATURALLY, when a group of junior riders get together to make a drill team, when they practice and practice, groom and groom, polish and polish, beg, borrow and contrive to get together the best-looking riding equipment possible, dash madly about or coerce harassed parents to get horse-trailer transportation, we all know they don't want to win—at least not very much!—when they enter into competition.

I DROPPED AROUND TO the junior championship and the junior drill team eliminations held last Sunday at the Aahmes Mounted Patrol Rancho on Skyline Boulevard. Members of the Concord Flying Horsemen, junior drill team of the Concord-Mt. Diablo Trail Ride Association, whose participants from this area are Pat Pfeiffer, Orinda and Yvonne Irwin and Barbara Lewis, Lafayette, had been telling me of their full schedules and how much additional hard work it would mean if their team won the right to represent Contra Costa and Alameda Counties (Region No. 5) to try for the state championship at the California State Horsemen's Association Show at Sacramento, October 13-16.

"Winning would mean an awful lot of more hard work, no time for play, no spare time for ourselves," they moaned, "and so we don't want to win—not very much!"

SO IT REALLY WAS A SHAME that they put on such a fast, fine and spirited drill, with only a few flaws. Yes, indeed. And that the good old American die-hard spirit of competition reared its ugly head when this fast-riding drill team got out there in the arena and so started daring their competitors to try and outdo them.

And it was a sad sight to see all the wide, gleeful grins and hear the yelps and squeals of pure exuberance and happiness when they were announced drill team winners to go to Sacramento.

"Well, we really don't have the time," they beamed, "and we didn't want to win—very much, that is—but, gosh! ISN'T IT WONDERFUL?"

PAT PFEIFFER, ORINDA, was runner-up girl in the two day examination held over the weekend to determine the regional champions (boy and girl) to be sent to Sacramento in October to compete for state junior horsemanship championships.

Pat had a score of 86.136. There were ten competing for high-point award, representing various horsemen's associations of the two counties. On Saturday the juniors (18 and under) had classroom examinations, being rated fifty per cent. On Sunday they had arena horsemanship, also rated fifty per cent.

Not only did the kids have to know equine nomenclature, and equipment, they had to groom, handle and ride the horses. They had to ride both western and English, and had to jump. In the jumper class many of them were riding strange horses, and they all did remarkably well.

KNOW ANYONE WHO would like to give a good horse a good home and good care for the privilege of having it for a mount for about a year?

No fooling, one of our county horse-lovers and raisers says he'll "farm" some of his horses out that way as he has more than he can handle at this time. I haven't seen all his horses, but to judge by some he's sold I'd say they weren't plugs, but horses most anyone would enjoy as pleasure mounts—as far as looks go. I do not know how well trained, or if they are. I'll be glad to get more information for anyone really interested in obtaining one of the "free" horses.

RIDING FAST over even very very familiar ground isn't at all what it used to be around here, now that the sewer lines are being dug. The ditches are deep to fall in, too.

M. B. McNeelys Celebrate 'Events'

It's time the M. B. McNeelys made the news. . . First, Mrs. McNeely just presented the proud father with a young son, born at Permanente Hospital in Oakland on Wednesday. And pop proudly informs everybody that "my boy" is "really red-headed."

And secondly McNeely, operator of the Contra Costa Patrol, reports that his firm has just completed a year of service under his management as of September 1. McNeely took over control of the Patrol Service from Bill Faulkner, who is now a Deputy Sheriff in the area.

To further celebrate the recent "events," McNeely announces his firm's expansion. Another patrol car has been purchased for exclusive use of patrol duty in the Orinda area. Ray Wilbur, a graduate of Western Police Academy, will man the extra patrol, McNeely announced.

A special feature included in the expansion program is the installation of radio-telephone service. The patrol will have contact with the telephones in the area. A phone call to the patrol will be picked up by McNeely on his radio and thus provide the latest in communication service for his customers.

Plan Replacement Of Water Mains

The East Bay Municipal Utility District is planning to invest during the next 10 years more than $14,000,000 to replace old water mains and service pipe in the local distribution system. Details of the major rehabilitation program were announced today by John S. Longwell, Chief Engineer and General Manager, who explained that the project will be partially financed with the additional tax revenues from the recent 7 cent increase in the District tax rate. The remainder will be derived from operating revenue.

According to Longwell, the pipe which must be replaced was originally installed by predecessor private water companies and acquired by the District in 1928, when the local water system was brought under public ownership. Many of the old mains have been in service for more than 40 years, and must now be replaced in order to maintain adequate water service, and to reduce maintenance costs.

High School Mothers Club Plans Meeting

The first meeting this term of the Orinda High School Mothers' Club will be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday, October 10, at the home of Mrs. Loren S. Bush, 95 Camino Encinas.

All mothers of Orinda high school students are cordially invited to attend. Dessert will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Keene Pettingill, Mrs. John Stoffel and Mrs. Donald Badgley.

For the information of newcomers to the club, the Orinda High School Mothers' Club was formed some years ago, prior to the existence of Acalanes, when students from this district attended various schools in Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond. At that time it was purely a social gathering, but with the erection of Acalanes High School it was decided the club would have as its aim the presentation each year of some useful gift to Acalanes. With this in mind, various money raising events have been held and many gifts, representing substantial amounts, have been given to Acalanes.

One of the money raising ideas this year will be Bridge and Canasta parties to be held bi-monthly at members' homes. Full information regarding these parties will be given at the October meeting or may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Pettingill at Orinda 2866.

Remember the date, October 10 at Mrs. Bush's home.

World-Wide Communion To Be Observed

Participating in the ninth annual observance of World-Wide Communion, Orinda Community Church will join next Sunday with churches across the nation of 150 American denominations by holding two Services of Communion.

The first is to be conducted by the Rev. Henry M. Shires, Dean of the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, at 8 o'clock A.M. This Service will follow the order of the Episcopal Prayer Book. At 11 o'clock, the Rev. Fred R. Morrow, Minister of the Community Church, will conduct the second Service in the less liturgical tradition of the Congregational, Presbyterian and Baptist Churches.

At the second Service, members will be received into the Community Church. Assisting in the Communion will be the Diaconate of the church and the choir under direction of Mary Elizabeth Tomme, with Virginia Baker at the organ.

Of the World-Wide Communion this year, Roswell P. Barnes, Editor of the Federal Council Bulletin, says, "With variations but with the same essential meaning, this Sacrament has come down across the centuries, but with a wider observance this year than ever before as a result of the spread of the Gospel by the missionary outreach of the Church and because of the growth of the ecumenical spirit." The Community Church is emphasizing the importance of participation in a special letter to all its constituents, according to the Rev. Mr. Morrow.

Den Mothers Meet At Shapiro Home

All Around

Orinda

WITH THE ROUNDER

IT COULD BE THE FOG on the other side of the Berkeley hills that's causing the Stork to make so many local stops — using Orinda as a sort of emergency landing field so to speak. At any rate the birthrate out this way has become almost fabulous.

The Rounder had intended mentioning the names of all the stork-happy Orindans, but the column just isn't long enough. If production proceeds at the present rate though, it's a foregone conclusion that it won't be very long before we're voting on another school bond issue.

IT ISN'T NEW, but it's still amusing — the story they tell on Snow Ward. Visited the Jim Gardiner's for a family get-together. Got there first and started playing the violin. As each guest arrived it became more and more obvious that Snow's violin technique left quite a bit to be desired. When the assembled multitude had suffered as long as they could, Jim Gardiner took over, pinioned Snow's arms at his side and another guest detached him from the violin.

It was all done very quietly without fuss or rough-house. But the following day Snow discovered he had several broken ribs. Fully recovered now, he's still wary of even a finger pointed his way for fear a brittle little rib may give way.

THE ROUNDER IS STILL NOT FULLY RECOVERED from a strenuous past weekend. . . .

Took in part of the Walnut Festival — and do they call some of that stuff art just to get laughs? We were particularly impressed by a couple of objects hanging at the art exhibit that looked for all the world like the seat of a house painter's work pants cut out and mounted in a frame.

We popped in at the Willows too, to see the "Girl on the Platter." Met an attractive young lady at the bar. . . . Found it quite an unusual event to talk with a well dressed girl one minute — see her stretched out the next minute on a platter, minus garments — but still attractive.

SOME ORINDA HUSBAND apparently went on a diet recently — lost 14 pounds in 14 days, a feat any woman might envy. For a dollar, so the ad is one paper stated, you too can learn how to do the same. You're supposed to send the money to one P.M.K., addressed to an Orinda P.O. box. And we're getting a little dizzy trying to translate P.M.K. into a name we know.

ORINDANS HAVE SPENT a great deal of time getting their new parking ordinance put into effect. And now are spending a lot more time trying to find someone to enforce it. Capt. Belon of the Highway Patrol, asked who was to enforce the new ordinance, answered with "That's what I'd like to know."

The Captain, who fought against its adoption, considers it the "most assinine ordinance" he ever heard of. We might remind Captain Belon that we aren't particularly concerned with his opinion of the ordinance, merely his efforts in seeing that it's enforced.

As Jack Cummings says, "The Orinda people wanted the parking ordinance, got it, and have a right to see that someone enforces it."

NOTED TED BECKETT'S PICTURE in one of those football magazines, listed as an all-time great of the gridiron, which he is. Several other former All-Americans shown too. Couldn't help thinking how interesting it would be for one of those magazines to publish pictures of the former greats in their playing days, alongside present day photos.

Orindans, who have been complaining about lack of police protection, have an opportunity to do something about it for themselves now. M. B. McNeely, of the Contra Costa Patrol, is offering their services in this area. Will have an all night patrol car equipped with two-way radio and telephone for Orinda only.

NOTE THAT out of Attorney General Howser's office comes the announcement that Contra Costa County is loaded with slot machines — and the raids start soon. And that goes for parties given by various organizations where one of the attractions is a line of one-arm bandits. Does that mean we have to start playing the console jobs "for amusement only" as the little sticker on them says?

Hear that the building plans of the local Masonic organization are not dead and buried. Are considering a site next to the new Christian Science Society's Church, if, of course, the water company can be persuaded.

THE JOHN BOYEN'S entertained Rosita's mother, Mrs. F. Moreno of Pomona for a month very recently. And from reports, grandmother was quite pleased, and probably astounded, by her granddaughter, little 18 months old Linda Rose.

Linda Rose not only has a 40 word English vocabulary — but speaks Spanish as well. And Rosita, got put to work by — yep, Andy Blalock. A friend of his wrote an article for a Mexican magazine about "The Ruins of Yucatan." Andy wanted to read it, but was out of luck because the article was written in Spanish. Rosita translated it for him and Andy, presumably, is now well acquainted with Yucatan and it's ruins.
